The North Pole is a magical place, full of cozy charm and Christmas spirit. But life there isn't always easy for Santa and the elves. In winter, it's colder than you can imagine, and it's dark outside nearly all day long! So how do the residents stay so jolly? Well, they do the same thing we do - they put up lots and lots of Christmas lights!

Robyn Garland persuaded Santa to put her in charge of the North Pole's decorations after she created a spectacular display one year. At that time, she was helping to keep watch of all the children for Santa's 'Naughty or Nice' List, and she had a clever idea. At a certain time of year, near children, we will often find Christmas decorations! Robyn looked closely and saw some wonderful scenes, and learned about the latest technologies, like LEDs that change color along to music.

It's no surprise that Santa and the elves were dazzled when they saw her unique, joyful display. Now nicknamed 'Merrymaker', Robyn is always on the lookout for new ideas to help boost her friends' spirits all year round.

Jolly Chalet

All About Jolly Chalet

Merrymaker's home, Jolly Chalet, is as wonderfully decorated as you'd imagine. Robyn keeps the outside similar to the other North Pole cottages, with traditional candy adornments and small colored lights, so that it doesn't outshine the bigger displays throughout the village. But inside, it's a whole different story!

Robyn is now an expert in all the types of lights and their effects, and she loves to try out new ideas. Where better to do this, than in her own home? With a Christmas tree in every room, plus lights and ornaments, she can try different color mixes and themes in each, and see which ones look best. Although younger elves sometimes try to peek through the windows, Merrymaker is always careful not to spoil the surprise. Her latest display is unveiled!

Upstairs, in a small attic room, is Robyn's top-secret board. No-one else is allowed in this room, even the elves. It contains pictures of all the gorgeous and unique Christmas displays seen around the world. When she combines them with her own special touch, her displays never fail to bring the residents with festive cheer.

ELF LETTER

Dear ENTER NAME

Christmas is coming! Are you feeling merry yet? I'm Robyn Garland, Jolly Lighting + Decorations Expert. I make sure the North Pole's atmosphere is always fun and festive for Santa and my fellow elves, by creating Christmassy displays at the workshop and in the village. I also change them every so often to keep things exciting!

I'm writing to you because I think you're a lot like me. Don't you just love the cozy feeling when you see a Christmas tree hung with baubles, or the dazzling splendor of a street lit up with hundreds of twinkling lights? Maybe you even enjoy making your own unique, cheerful ornaments!

This year, if you can help with the Christmas decorating, I'd love to see you think of an idea and add your own special flair. Maybe a certain mix of colors, or a new place to put up lights? I think you'd be really good at making beautiful, festive displays. And if it's especially jolly, I might just recreate your idea here, at the North Pole...

With love, Robyn Garland
