

Santa's Magic Treat

On Christmas Eve, Santa travels the world so quickly that sometimes children don't have time to leave out milk, cookies, and a carrot for Rudolph. But don't worry these special paper treats are filled with Christmas magic!

Before bed, place them carefully on a plate or table where Santa will see them. When Santa arrives and touches each one with his gloved hand, something truly magical happens.

The paper cookie turns warm and crumbly, smelling of sweet chocolate chips.

The glass of milk fills right up, cool and creamy.
And the carrot becomes crisp and fresh, perfect for Rudolph's midnight snack!

When Santa finishes his snack, he gives the magic a little push. The magic fades, and the treats turn back to normal for next Christmas.

So even without real treats, with Christmas spirit... and a little magic...
