

Merry Christmas

Magical
Sneak
Peek

Biography

Name: Crispin Sprout Height: 3lin/79cm Food: Everything's tasty!
Nickname: Gingerbread Genius Eye Color: Brown Music: Jingle Bell Rock
Age: 188 Elf Years Elf Power: Yes Color: Cinnamon-brown

Current Role: Santa's Head Chef

One freezing lunchtime at the North Pole, Santa came into his workshop shivering after a morning outside with his reindeer. As he warmed himself by the dining hall fire, he thought about his lunchbox. Sandwiches again! He looked around at his elves, chatting and munching at the long table. Most of them had sandwiches, too. Except for that elf at the end, Crispin. Was that turkey with stuffing in his thermal lunchbox? And... roast potatoes, with rich, warm gravy?! Santa's mouth watered. Sandwiches were just no good when it was so cold, and they all worked so hard. But now he had an idea...

Newly promoted to Santa's Head Chef, Crispin Sprout was delighted to put his cooking skills to good use! After overseeing some upgrades to the workshop's dusty old kitchen, he set to work creating meals that were hot, delicious and nourishing. When Santa noticed that the elves were more energetic and producing better work, he requested some afternoon treats for them, too. Crispin's festive bakes were an instant hit, and he became known as the 'Gingerbread Genius'.

Gingerbread Genius

Magical Sneak Peek

Icing Villa

All About Icing Villa

When Crispin moved into his cozy home soon after his promotion, he was surprised when his friends visited for the first time, and... laughed? When he asked what was so funny, they explained: "Crispin, you're the Gingerbread Genius! You're famous for your baking. And you've just moved into a house that looks like a giant iced cake!" Hmm, they did have a point. And so after that, the rather tasty-looking house became known as Icing Villa. Perfect!

Any elf (or reindeer, or Santa Claus) wandering past Icing Villa is naturally drawn in by the yummy smell of baking. And so, happily for Crispin, he always has willing testers for his new recipes! Although he's still a pro at the warming, savory stuff, it's natural that the Gingerbread Genius excels most at sweets. At home, he spends most of his time in his well-equipped kitchen where a variety of gleaming pans hang on the wall and herbs dangle from the ceiling rafters. Occasionally, mysterious pop ups outside of the North Pole, like this new, tasty Christmas cookie, you might wonder if the Gingerbread Genius himself inspired it!

Magical Sneak Peek

ELF LETTER

Dear ENTER NAME

Christmas is coming, and so are all the yummy foods it brings! Are you looking forward to it as much as I am?

Oh, but let me introduce myself! I'm Crispin Sprout, Santa's Head Chef here at the North Pole. I'm writing to you because I heard that you love good food as much as I do. You and I, we appreciate the finer things in life!

Perhaps you've already been enjoying some festive treats. But have you made any yourself? You remind me of what I was like when I was younger, so I thought I might give you a little Christmas challenge. If you can find a grown-up to help you, wouldn't it be nice to decorate some cookies, help prepare the Christmas dinner, or maybe even bake an entire cake? I think you could do it!

Although you live far away from my kitchen at the North Pole, I'd like to give you an honorary title. If you can make a Christmas treat of your own, you will earn the right to be known as 'Sprinkle Specialist'!

Merry Christmas, and happy baking!

Crispin Sprout

Magical
Sneak
Peek